Old court and police station for sale DEVELOPERS EXPECTED TO SNAP UP LAND FOR HOUSING

A PRIME piece of land in Axminster has been put up for sale by Devon County Council and the Devon & Cornwall Police Authority.

Prospective buyers have until July 18th to make an offer for the old magistrates' court building, the police station and adjoining land in Lyme Close.

There is no guide price but the site is marketed as 'a freehold development opportunity', the total area of land being 0.78 acres.

An attempt was made four years ago to prevent the site from being sold for housing but Axminster Town Council's bid to register the site as an Asset of Community Value failed.

Speaking to Pulman's Weekly News on May 25th, town mayor Cllr Jeremy Walden said: "I think it is a pity it is likely to be lost to community use."

"It is almost certain it will be sold for housing, but there is nothing we can do about it."

"We have tried to register it as a community asset."

The old court building closed in 2001, but the police station was operational until officers moved down the road to the fire station last year.

Both buildings were built in the 1960s; the old court in 1963 and the former police station in 1964. The sale has been a long time coming and speculation has been rife as to what would happen.

It is understood that Axminster Medical Practice looked at it for a possible relocation, but has since extended its surgery instead.

There were also been calls for an emergency service hub to be built, but the fire station further down the road was recently extended and refurbished to host both firefighters and police officers.

Axminster Town Council failed to prevent the site being lost for housing by requesting that it was listed as an Asset of Community Value in 2013.

The town council hoped to win enough time to decide on a community use for the site and prepare a bid to buy the land under The Community Right to Bid (part of The Localism Act).

But East Devon District Council (EDDC) – the authority keeping the Asset of Community Value list – turned down the application, ruling that: "The principal use of the land neither now, nor in the recent past, furthers the social well-being or cultural, recreational or sporting interests of the local community. It does not therefore meet the criteria set out in the Localism Act to be eligible for listing."

Town councillor Douglas Hull was disappointed and said at the time: "I feel it is a case of EDDC not bothering about that little place at the end of the county, Axminster."

"You would have thought that the court and police are part of community works and life."

Devon County Council and the Devon & Cornwall Police Authority have confirmed the site is for sale, but not commented further.

The site is being marketed by Exeter-based NPS Group.

Chief Constable Paul Netherton has been selected to the role of Deputy Chief Constable for Devon and Cornwall and is promoted with immediate effect.

"As DCC for Devon and Cornwall, Mr Netherton will continue in his role managing transformational change across Devon, Cornwall and Dorset.

"All candidates involved in this process were very strong, and I would like to thank all of those who put themselves forward for the role.

"I would like to offer my warmest congratulations to Paul in his promotion. I look forward to continuing to work with him as a key member of the executive team."

DCC Netherton is the national policing regional lead for counter terrorism and public order and has a vast amount of experience as a public events and firearms commander.

As the regional lead for public order he was gold commander for the start of the Olympic Torch Relay and has provided national advice around critical issues including animal protests.

New rules for dog owners in East Devon

EAST Devon District Council hopes to encourage more responsible dog ownership with a new Public Space Protection Order.

Following public consultation between December 2016 and January 2017, councillors at East Devon District Council have approved new measures in the form of a Public Space Protection Order (PSPO) to encourage more responsible dog ownership across the district.

The new PSPO, which incorporates tighter dog controls, was approved - together with a PSPO relating to a ban on the feeding of seagulls on seashores and promenades - by the council's cabinet in April. Both PSPOs will be enforced by council officers while they are out and about in the local community.

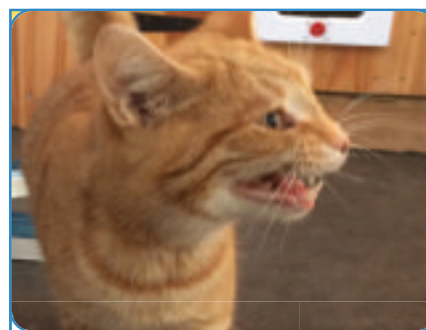

One major new provision in the PSPO is that dogs must be kept on leads on roads and pavements.

The idea being that the dog is under more control around traffic and if they come into contact with other members of the public or dogs using the roads and pavements.

The existing controls transferred into the new orders, with some minor improvements, are:

- No dogs are allowed in any council maintained children's play areas and some other play areas and playing fields;
- All dog owners must always pick up after their dogs wherever they walk in public places;
- Dogs must be kept on leads on most formal garden areas, in some playing fields and on the walkways next to East Devon beaches;
- Dogs are not allowed on the main areas of the town beaches of Exmouth, Budleigh Salterton, Sidmouth, Beer and Seaton during the summer (however, the ban on dogs at Beer is for the smaller West beach, while the main area of Beer beach is now subject to a new dogs on lead restriction);
- Dog walkers are not allowed to be in control of more than six dogs at one time and they must put their dogs on a lead if asked to do so.

Although council officers in the environmental health team respond to enquiries and complaints about dogs, members of the public can also provide information about problems caused if these orders are not complied with. Any enforcement will be proportionate and will focus primarily on advice and education, although fixed penalties of £80 will be issued in all cases where there is sufficient evidence of harm and consequence.

Lightening strikes thatched cottage near Ilminster

FIREFIGHTERS in Somerset rushed to the scene of a blaze in Ilton after a thatched roof caught light following a lightening strike.

Residents across Somerset and Devon experienced some extreme weather over the weekend, including flash flooding in parts of Yeovil and in Ilton where the roof of a property caught fire after being struck by lightning.

Crews from Ilminster attended the blaze and there was no one in the property at the time of the fire.

Firefighters worked quickly to extinguish the fire and stop the spread.

Councillor to run for parliament to highlight Genette Tate case

A GENERAL election candidate hoping to be elected in East Devon has said that the reason he is standing for parliament is related to the disappearance of Genette Tate in 1978.

Peter Faithfull, who is a town and district councillor for Ottery St Mary, has been leafleting houses in the East Devon area and said he has been given lots of local moral support on what he calls his bottom line reason for standing for election. Genette Tate disappeared from Aylesbeare on August 19th 1978 while delivering newspapers and was never found.

Serial killer Robert Black was linked to the disappearance but died in January 2016. Following his death Devon and Cornwall Police say they were five weeks away from submitting a file to the Crown Prosecution Service in which they sought a new decision on whether to prosecute him.

The file was submitted to the Crown Prosecution Service three months after Black's January 2016 death, although the Crown Prosecution Service stated that they would not be making a posthumous decision on charging Black.

Mr Faithfull said: "I have reason to believe that Genette is buried in Aylesbeare churchyard and has been there from the beginning.

"My understanding is that the person who first informed Devon and Cornwall Police about a grave in the churchyard in 1978 as having been disturbed insisted until his death that the place where he identified has never been searched.

"On the weekend on which Genette Tate went missing there is believed to have been a burial taking place in the churchyard.

"Such a burial has never been recorded in the church records.

"There are further pieces of information which, as they include people's names, are not included in this leaflet.

"I would be very grateful for any further information relating to this subject.

"The purpose of me standing for parliament is so that I will have the benefit of parliamentary privilege, free to talk openly about the case, without the risk of prosecution for slander or libel.

"My aim is to bring closure to this case, which has haunted many people's lives for many years."

Barcelona or bust for local man

AN Axminster man hopes to avoid another IKEA ban when taking on his fourth Barcelona or Bust Rally.

Mike Morris will be part of a double crew this year, going with former teammate Jay Stevens from Manchester.

The three-day rally starts in Rouen on Friday, September 8th and finishes in Barcelona the following Sunday.

Participants drive a car, bought for no more than £500, along scenic roads with backdrops of sun, sea, sand and snow.

Participants must stop and undertake 'fun challenges' along the way, competing for points and prizes – and this is where Mike and his three team mates encountered problems last year.

They were given a challenge to stop at an IKEA branch en route and have a photo taken of all four of them in a bed.

But shop management was quickly on their case, so the four team members were escorted out and banned from the store before the photo was taken.

Whilst there may be some crazy challenges involved off the road, they must be on their best behaviour when driving.

The rally is on general roads open to the public, so drivers must adhere to the laws of the road like everybody else.

Mr Morris said: "No speeding, no recklessness. Anything stupid and you are off."

About preparations he said: "We have got a car, a convertible Renault Megan.

"We got it for £100 but it needs a bit of work."

■ PIT STOP: The 2016 team. Duncan Wallis (from Manchester) Simon Humphry, Mike Morris (both Axminster) and Jay Stevens (Manchester)

Anders Larsson

Chief reporter
anders@viewnews.co.uk

He watches Formula 1 on TV, regularly goes to the British Grand Prix and used to do off-roading.

Mr Morris first came across the rally when seeing an advert on Facebook, and enjoyed it so much the first time that he has come back for more, saying: "It is all fun and you can decorate the car if you like."

"We usually cover them in stickers but others have covered their cars in fur to make them look like dogs."

He takes a more conservative approach in everyday life and usually drives a Nissan Juke, saying: "It is a sensible family car."

Organisers are confident that the 2017 rally will be a big success.

Spokesperson Cuthbert Ware-Armitage said: "I am delighted that a team from Axminster are joining us on Europe's ultimate banger rally adventure."

"This is a brilliant opportunity to have an amazing driving experience in one of the worst cars."

More information can be found on the event website at www.bustrallies.com

Festival of Volunteers

AXMINSTER Festival of Volunteers is set for Thursday, June 1st in the Guildhall.

Doors are open from 11.30am-2pm and local charities will have stands to showcase their cause.

The event is also held to mark Volunteers' Week, which runs from June 1st-7th.

Axminster Care Service is one charity which will have a presence at the festival.

Trustee Mervyn Symes said: "Our local volunteers help to provide a vast range of services, from transportation services for those hospital or doctor's appointments; hosting the Tuesday Lunch Club at the Senior Citizens' Centre where both good food and good company is on offer; assistance for those individuals or families who are in need of emergency funding; assistance to other organisations in need of support to allow them to keep functioning and moving forward."

Sixth formers host 'Question Time' hustings

THE Sixth Form Centre at Axe Valley Academy was transformed into a mock-up version of Question Time, with Year 13 student Charlie Hall 'standing in' for David Dimbleby to chair a grilling of parliamentary candidates.

Three candidates for the Tiverton and Honiton seat attended the hustings on Monday, May 22nd: Neil Parish (Conservative), Gill Westcott (Green Party), and Matthew Wilson (Lib Dem.)

Deputy Mayor of Honiton Henry Brown stood in for Labour candidate Caroline Kolek, who could not make it because of work commitments.

The candidates were given ample opportunity to challenge each other as well as promoting their own beliefs, providing for an extremely interesting afternoon.

■ HENRY Brown, Charlie Hall, Neil Parish, headteacher Steve Green, Matthew Wilson and Gill Westcott

Debate ranged across a plethora of topics, from the European Union to grammar schools.

An academy spokesperson said: "It sparked thoughtful questions about whether the Government is taking the right approach to Brexit negotiations, and whether it is appropriate to funnel money into grammar schools without investment in to state schools.

"Drawing a significant crowd and keeping the audience invigorated throughout, it is an event that shall surely be seen at Axe Valley again."

GENERAL ELECTION 2017 PREVIEW - TIVERTON & HONITON CONSTITUENCY

WITH the country going to the polls on June 8th, Pulman's View has asked candidates standing in the Tiverton & Honiton and East Devon constituencies to make their case for why they deserve your vote.

NEIL PARISH

Conservatives

"IT'S been a privilege to serve the people of Tiverton and Honiton since 2010. I would be proud to represent you again as your MP.

"Since 2015, I have been chairman of the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Select Committee in Parliament.

"This position allows me to hold the Government to account on issues that really matter in our community, from farm subsidies to flood protections and animal welfare to air quality.

"This election is primarily about Brexit. And giving the Prime Minister the strongest possible hand to get a good deal in negotiations with the EU.

"I am supporting Theresa May as the best candidate for Prime Minister to lead these negotiations and the country over the next few years.

"I long campaigned and voted for an EU referendum in Parliament. I accept the decision of the British people. Some parties want a second referendum or to block the result in Parliament. I disagree.

"If re-elected, I promise to work constructively, both in my select committee and in the House of Commons, to help secure the best possible Brexit deal for Britain.

"This election is also about our long-term direction as a country. We face many challenges – an ageing population, balancing the public finances and foreign policy threats to name a few. I wholeheartedly believe a Conservative Government, under Theresa May, is in the best position to tackle these challenges and provide the strong leadership this country needs.

"It would be a honour to have your support at the ballot on June 8th."

CAROLINE KOLEK

Labour

CAROLINE moved to the Honiton area in 1990 to bring up her four children. Whilst being a stay at home mum, Caroline studied with the Open University to later go on to become a teacher.

Caroline has been heavily involved with her union, being fortunate enough to be elected as treasurer of ATL (The Education Union) which provides representation to tens of thousands of teaching staff. She has also been a member of the General Teaching Council, a think tank which works to improve standards and quality of education.

Caroline is a town councillor and served as mayor for the previous two years on Honiton Town Council.

Caroline said: "Schooling is something I'm very passionate about and I deeply oppose the forced academisation of schools which has been a form of back door privatisation and has led to less funding and support from central government.

"I oppose grammar schools as it is unfair and statistics show that only the wealthier households afford the resources to send their children, such as private tutoring for the 11 plus.

"Labour believes this election shouldn't just be about Brexit but recognises the importance to ensure our country gets the best deal possible. Labour accepts the outcome of the referendum and will enact the majority's call to leave.

"The party wants to remain a part of the single market; protecting trade with the EU is essential for our economy and industry. We cannot afford to fully isolate ourselves from the EU as our local economy especially benefits from seasonal migrant workers and the ease of continental tourists to come and enjoy the local area.

"A vote for Labour is a vote for your children and grandchildren, it is a vote for the NHS and protecting this jewel of Britain.

"A vote for Labour is a vote for renationalising our railways and preventing the big six energy companies from running extortionate rates.

"On June the 8th, ignore the rhetoric, instead vote for what will benefit you and those around you most. I believe the right choice is Labour."

MATTHEW WILSON

Liberal Democrats

DR MATTHEW Wilson is the Liberal Democrat candidate for the Tiverton and Honiton constituency.

The 45-year-old has spent most of his adult life in the South West and has recently been the chairman of Torbay Liberal Democrats.

Mr Wilson has set out his plans to run a modern and positive campaign with a focus on three key issues – fighting for a referendum on the Brexit deal, the NHS and education.

He is described by the party as a successful entrepreneur who also has a background in teaching, so is well-placed to understand the needs of both the private and the public sectors.

He said: "One of my key objectives is to fight for a referendum on the final Brexit deal.

"I strongly believe that the people of the UK deserve to have a final say, rather than being forced to accept a Hard Brexit which will have a devastating effect on our economy and living standards.

"There has already been talk that the UK may have to agree to pay up to £100 billion to leave the EU.

"My position is that this is one area (amongst many others) which was not clear before the referendum and on which the people need to have a vote."

GILL WESTCOTT

Green Party

"THE Green Party stands for better democracy, including electoral reform, so that every vote matters equally. But democracy isn't just voting, it's being able to participate.

"I'm concerned that campaigning groups and NGOs (non-profit organisations that operates independently of any government) are controlled in how they talk to decision-makers while corporate lobbying is not.

"The Green Party wants greater transparency, restrictions on the concentration of the media and controls on fake news and the political manipulation of social media.

"For Devon and the South West, devolution deals should involve public debate, rather than being discussed behind closed doors.

"I will work for greater economic security, decently funded public services (including social care) and education, and a clean, green and prosperous Devon for our younger generation to grow up and live safely in; for secure jobs in renewable energy and new technologies which will cut climate impacts, rather than fewer jobs in risky nuclear power and toxic fracking.

"I oppose hospital closures under the Sustainability and Transformation Plans. The Green Party stands for a well-funded NHS, reinstated as a publicly run service, without wasting money and undermining morale with the internal market.

"Affordable homes in many communities are desperately needed, but too many developments are poorly designed or in the wrong place.

"More local control in the planning system could help prevent this. Better public transport options, especially in new developments, can prevent rising congestion and pollution, and support rural communities.

"I am a parish councillor in Cheriton Bishop, Devon, and helped found our Community Land Trust, providing affordable homes for local people.

"I work with Transition Exeter and am a director of the Exeter Pound, a social enterprise running a city currency to support independent local businesses. I live with my husband, some sheep and chickens, and have two grown-up sons."

GENERAL ELECTION 2017 PREVIEW - EAST DEVON CONSTITUENCY

SIR HUGO SWIRE

Conservatives

"I HAVE had the privilege of being East Devon's MP since 2001. My political career has included two spells as a Minister of State; one in Northern Ireland, the other in the Foreign and Commonwealth Office where my responsibilities included the Commonwealth, North America, Latin America, Asia and the Pacific.

"My main efforts, if re-elected, would be to support the Government in its Brexit negotiations. The next five years are the most challenging that Britain has faced in my lifetime. Brexit will define us as a nation, it will define our place in the world, our economic security and our future prosperity. For that we need a clear plan and stable leadership.

"We also need to lock in the economic progress we have made already, including cutting the deficit by two thirds which will help secure our economy for the future.

"Employment is up by 2.8 million – meaning over 1,000 jobs have been created on average every day. And last year our economy grew faster than all but one other major advanced economy.

"Ultimately, a successful economy is the key to a successful nation; it means you can help those left behind, you can build better schools and hospitals, look after the elderly. More debt and higher taxes, as prescribed by others, just slows growth down.

"Locally, I have been active on the issue of hospital bed closures, social care provision and fairer funding for our schools.

"I have seen and spoken to the Prime Minister on all these issues and organised debates in Parliament. Judging by the manifesto she was in listening mode.

"No Devon schools will now have their budgets cuts and social care has been pushed to the top of the political agenda. Electing an MP who has direct access to the decision makers means you can make things happen."

"I AM the county councillor for the Ottery St Mary area, with a special interest in health and environmental issues.

"I have a track record of unseating Conservative politicians: after entering politics with a stint on Ottery St Mary Town Council, I unseated the longstanding Tory leader of East Devon District Council in 2011. Two years later I won a seat on Devon County Council with a whopping 74 per cent share of the vote and the largest share in the South West. Earlier this month I retained my county council seat nudging my share up to 75 per cent.

"In 2015 I entered national politics for the first time, standing as an Independent in the general election. Although a parliamentary newcomer I came second taking 24 per cent of the vote and gaining more votes than Labour and the Lib Dems combined.

"Working as an Independent has been a liberating experience for me and I have relished being able to speak my own mind and represent the views of local people.

"I have worked hard for the community I serve: I have opposed the major cuts in the provision of local services, including libraries and community hospitals, as well as being an outspoken critic of the relaxation of planning rules that now threaten East Devon with over-development.

"I am also a determined health campaigner. I spent 10 years working in the NHS and have battled for several years against hospital beds being lost across Eastern Devon. A member of Devon County Council's Health and Wellbeing Scrutiny Committee, my work has included the committee's investigation into bed closures in North Devon.

"In March I successfully proposed that the local NHS should provide 14 valid assurances on the provision of care at home, following the decision to close 72 community hospital beds. If valid assurances on the bed cuts are not provided within the timeframe, the newly formed committee may refer the decision to the Secretary of State for Health. I am committed to doing my best to protect ordinary people here in this beautiful constituency.

"Unlike other MPs who have to follow the whip and worry more about their party leaders than the people who put them there, my focus will always be the welfare of the people of East Devon."

ALISON EDEN

Liberal Democrats

ALISON Eden is a healthcare communications specialist. A graduate of Oxford University, Alison lives with her husband and family in Teignmouth where she is a Liberal Democrat town and district councillor.

Her top priorities are education; the wellbeing of coastal and rural communities; and health and social care policy.

Alison says: "I feel privileged to offer myself as Liberal Democrat candidate for East Devon at the coming general election.

"We know difficult times lie ahead – for our country and local communities. We all want the best for our nation and that means avoiding the catastrophic rupture to our trading relations and our place in the world, which a 'hard' Brexit would mean. This is why the Liberal Democrats are campaigning for your right to a final say on the details.

"The NHS is in crisis. Only the Liberal Democrats have a plan to save the NHS and social care. We will save the NHS by putting a penny on Income Tax to raise £6 billion additional revenue, which will be ring-fenced to be spent only on NHS and social care services. Add your voice to our campaign: #inforapenny-tosaveourNHS

"As a Liberal Democrat MP I will benefit from the support, the talent and the networks of an established and national party.

"This gives me the time and the resources to advocate for and support residents.

"Loyalty to constituents and my conscience will, for me, always come before party."

JANET ROSS

Labour

"I AM proud to have been selected to fight the seat in East Devon in the forthcoming general election where I intend to highlight some of the serious issues facing our society.

"I was born in Devon to an active Labour Party family and I have followed that example of local involvement all my adult life. After a career in education which took me to different parts of the UK, I returned to the county for the latter part of my working life and now retirement.

"So many public services like health, social care, education, housing and transport are vital to the wellbeing of the people of Devon.

"Tory cuts have isolated communities which are dependent on the accessibility of these services. Labour will invest in these services so that they meet the needs of young and old.

"Cuts to services hit the poorest most and where specialist services and mental health provision are required, their voices are heard the least.

"If elected I would work hard for East Devon and stand up for our community. We had a disastrous Lib Dem-Tory coalition and a deeply divisive Tory Government.

"We need a Labour Government that will invest in public services, secure the future of our economy and make Britain fairer.

"We need a strong government that caters for all, not one that caters for the rich and powerful. It's time for change and only a Labour Government will deliver the policies for a fairer society.

"We need to put an end to the decimation of our NHS and social care services by austerity cuts and the worst excesses of a Tory administration and work towards a more equitable society.

"You can make a difference to how the country is run by electing a Labour Party candidate.

"I hope that we can count on your vote on Thursday, June 8th."

Walk 1:
Woolacombe to Morte Point
(circular - six miles)

WELCOME to Herbie & Hilda's journey around the South West Coast Path. The route, regularly referred to as one of the most beautiful yet diverse in the world, stretches for 630-miles from Minehead to Poole.

As we are both still working we are unable to complete the path in one strenuous six-week walk as others have done.

Instead, we plan to jump around the route in random places taking in smaller – bite sized – walks that would appeal to most. We have already completed approximately 15 per cent of the 630 miles prior to this first instalment, but will recap on these at a later date.

You can follow our trek which will include notable landmarks or points of interest, in the form of this column that will pop-up at regular intervals as and when we cross off another stretch.

To start with we headed off for a week in Woolacombe in North Devon and the rugged Atlantic Coast.

Walk One – Woolacombe to Morte Point (and back): total 4 miles

Most jaunts on the North Devon coast, particularly in March, will be bracing with a fresh wind off the Atlantic Ocean, this one had plenty of this, but with warm sunshine too.

We headed east from our base in Woolacombe and were immediately met by a WWII monument to the American Marines who carried out crucial exercises in 1943 in the lead up to D-Day on beaches that closely replicated those huge expanses of sand accompanied by steep dunes on the Normandy Coast, in particular 'Omaha' beach.

But this walk has little sand to see and is in fact dominated by the dramatic Morte slate with its rugged rocky quality and imposing shadows, the nearby village of Morthoe has a section dedicated to the numerous shipwrecks, five in 1852 alone, that litter this area.

The spring is a great time to also appreciate the plentiful, hardwearing gorse bushes with their vivid yellow which perfectly complement the clear blue skies and lush green vales – but do beware the cliff edges as the unforgiving rocks below await – Morte Point translates to death point!

The walk took us about two hours in total – including the obligatory coffee and banana stop – and is perfect for a half day jaunt, providing the sun shines.

For further details on the Path visit www.southwestcoastpath.org.uk – it's a great hobby, for all ages, taking you to places you might never have been to and upon sights you would never have seen.

Until next time...

GENERAL ELECTION - EAST DEVON CONSTITUENCY

PETER FAITHFULL

"AS A long time resident in East Devon, I am standing as an independent disillusioned Conservative voter.

"For many years I have felt that the views of local people and their votes have been taken for granted. East Devon has long been regarded as a safe Conservative seat.

"I would very much like to show the Conservative Party that we are not a community to be taken for granted. While I consider my views and standpoint to be of a conservative (with a small 'c') nature, I struggle to see the connection between local rural community issues and national government policies.

"As a district councillor at East Devon District Council I have become much more aware of the burdens and responsibilities that local governments are being placed with and the lack of funding being provided.

"Some of the more important local issues are related to health service, education and housing. We, as a community, have recently taken part in a consultation regarding the future of our NHS. For many people the consultation was considered to be no consultation at all.

"We were asked if we would like care closer to home. For most people this means community hospitals. For wanting care closer to home in the form of community hospitals we are having those hospitals reduced to hubs or medical centres.

"Rural community education is struggling with the reductions in funding and a lack of affordable housing in rural communities is leaving rural communities struggling to remain sustainable.

"Too many policies are geared to big business and against our rural way of life. I am constantly hearing from farmers how they are receiving totally inadequate payments for produce and are expected to survive. As Member of Parliament I would stand independently and with no party allegiance to represent the whole community of the East Devon Constituency."

MICHAEL VAL DAVIES

Independent

"ON ONE level I am standing because I realised that unless I did stand there would be no one on the ballot paper who actually lives in Exmouth, which is by far the biggest settlement in East Devon.

"There are some specific issues that interest me though; when the Dean of Wells spoke the eulogy at Harry Patch's funeral on August 6th 2009 he spoke the words: 'Harry believed the world could be repaired'.

"Those words struck a chord with me but I am running out of time to help make them come true.

"If elected I will read Wilfred Owen's letter to his mother from New Year's Eve 2017 at Exmouth war memorial on Remembrance Sunday and in 2018 - when Remembrance Sunday actually falls on Armistice Day itself - I hope to report on any progress made.

"Another issue is the state of Northern Ireland after Brexit. I think it is completely absurd that retired British soldiers may be tried for deeds done (or not done) nearly 50 years ago.

"If a single British soldier serves a single day in jail as a result of this witch hunt I pledge I will leaflet the Commando training camp urging the trainees to mutiny.

"In case you are worried you would be handing the job to somebody inexperienced, don't be. I have spent a great deal of my life thinking and reading about British politics and I really want to play a part in making them work better for the whole community.

"Obviously there are a lot of problems with health and social care, with mental health a big problem itself. I participate in the work of the South West Zero Suicide Collaborative, which is struggling for funds at the moment, as are so many mental health organisations."

BRIGITTE GRAHAM

UK Independence Party

"ONE of the concerns which I share with many local people is the current wanton destruction of our green fields and precious countryside by the building of large developments of new homes, which are not genuinely affordable by local people.

"Despite all the house building, there is still a total failure to address the real housing need for low cost, low energy, social housing that young and low waged people can afford.

"We want to see building where there are real jobs, and the necessary infrastructure, jobs and services are already in place.

"UKIP would launch a programme of council house and low cost house building specifically for local people and veterans.

"UKIP have always advocated a brownfield first policy and encourage the re-use of derelict or empty properties, and if elected I would fight strongly to protect East Devon's valuable countryside from over development.

"I would also fight to protect our local hospital services. Devon has a unique geography, with scarce resources spread over a huge area and a population that doubles in the tourist season.

"Yet, right across the county we're seeing acute hospital services under threat and community hospital beds closing.

"UKIP would reduce £9 billion from the UK's foreign aid budget, to inject vital extra funds into the NHS and social care.

"We would still allocate £2 billion into famine aid, health and disaster relief, but we cannot allocate money worldwide whilst our NHS is in deep crisis."

Council grants on offer

VILLAGE halls, community buildings and community shops can all benefit from a new East Devon District Council grant scheme.

East Devon District Council is urging rural local communities who are planning capital building projects or refurbishments to apply for financial help from its Community Buildings Fund.

The Community Building Fund is an EDDC grants scheme which helps fund projects for village halls, community buildings and community shops by offering grants of anything up to £5,000.

Community buildings and community shops that are within an area covered by a town council are not eligible to apply.

The scheme's purpose is to help rural community buildings and community shops all around East Devon with funding for projects such as new or improved toilet facilities, kitchen facilities, roof repairs, heating and new door fixtures.

There are two closing dates for applications, throughout the year; these are Friday, June 30th 2017 at 5pm and Friday, December 15th 2017 at 5pm (EDDC say there is only limited money available so if all funding is granted in June there will be none available in December).

Interested applicants can find all the information they need, including application forms, on the East Devon website at www.eastdevon.gov.uk/grants-and-funding/community-buildings-fund

Mark Williams, chief executive of East Devon District Council, said: "I would urge any of our more rural community buildings and community shops that need funding to find out more about the grants available, and to apply if they're eligible.

"Over the years we've been offering it this fund has contributed to a great many really worthy projects that have helped many village halls improve and become more sustainable, and also helped set up and improve some of East Devon's community shops."

Farms set to open their gates

AT LEAST two farms in the area will open its gates to the public for Open Farm Sunday on June 11th.

The Reed family at Gatcombe Farm, near Seaton, will offer guided tours and visitors will be able to see cows being milked, sheep shearing and talk to farm nutritionists and veterinarians.

Members of the public are welcome between 11am and 4pm.

Well-behaved dogs on leads are welcome and donations to Devon Free-wheelers would be much appreciated.

More information is available on 01297 21235.

Furzeleigh Down Farm at Cooks Lane, Axminster, will hold a scarecrow competition. Visitors can wander around and see various animals and machines. They can also see the cows being milked.

Farmer Val Voysey said: "Open Farm Sunday is a national event that encourages farmers to open their gates to the public for one day in the year."

About the competition, she said: "Primary schools are being asked to participate and there is no entry fee.

"The scarecrow is to be about 1.5m high, it must be the work of the children who can use their imagination for design and materials.

"Adults can help with a frame to make it free standing, but a floppy scarecrow is quite acceptable."

Entries must be delivered before 6pm on Friday, June 9th or Saturday, June 10th June to the shop in Cooks Lane.

More information is available on 01297 32159.

■ OPEN DAY: Cows will be milked at Gatcombe Farm

■ MEMBERS of Axminster Drama Club (Youth) hope to thrill audiences when performing Blood Brothers in Axminster Guildhall from June 22nd to 25th.

They were inspired by eventually watching a professional version of the show.

Directors Sara Leat and Jack Price thought cast members would benefit from seeing a professional version of the show at Bristol Hippodrome.

A 30-strong party set off by coach but were caught in traffic for three hours this side of Taunton, so missed the show.

Mrs Leat said: "Fortunately thanks to the generosity of the Bristol Hippodrome and Swards Coaches, tickets were hastily rearranged and the group managed to see a later performance and even got an upgrade on their tickets.

Drama club youngsters' new production

"Despite returning home very tired after rather a long day, the cast were inspired by what they saw and are full of ideas as to how to enhance their own performance."

She thanked Axminster Carnival Committee for sponsoring the trip.

Tickets can be purchased online at www.ticketsource.co.uk/axminster-drama-club or from Archway Bookshop in Axminster.

Spaces still available for free cooking sessions

TWO sessions remain in a series of free cooking classes in Axminster.

Organised by local charity Health and Local Food for Families (HALFF), the hands-on classes learn participants to cook healthy meals.

They are led by chef Ian Simpson from the White House Hotel in Charmouth, and are promoted as "a great opportunity to learn more about healthy cooking and nutrition, as well as providing support and advice for people looking after those with specific health conditions".

Sessions are completely free and all participants will receive a meal for themselves, and anyone they care for, to take home.

The next session is on Wednesday June 21st, with the final one on Wednesday July 19th, both from 11am to 1pm in the Masonic Hall, South Street, Axminster.

For more information, go to www.halff.org.uk, call the HALFF Food Hub shop on 01297 631782 or email admin@halff.org.uk proud sponsors of

RUGBY CLUB

ORIGINALLY from Newport in Shropshire, baker and cake decorator Cathryn Andrews moved to Devon in 2007, having dreamt about living in the area since holidaying here as a child.

She had baked since she was a little girl and started selling cakes at Honiton Market before opening her business Icing Occasions – originally based in Honiton and now at Colyton Business Park in Wheelers Yard.

She also recently launched the Heart of Colyton Facebook page.

● HOW did you first become interested in baking and cake decorating?

I made my first cake at the tender age of five. I loved being in the kitchen making cakes and cookies for my rather large family.

I took home economics at school and passed all my exams to go on to catering school, but sadly due to costs I couldn't go because my parents couldn't afford it. I never lost interest though, and when I got married and had my three children, I would make their birthday cakes and donate to school cakes for raffles and people took notice.

I started selling my cakes on Honiton Market thinking that this was as far as it would go, but always with that idea of a shop of my own one day. It wasn't until my marriage broke up in 2012 that I decided that I wanted to have my own shop and came across the empty shop at Black Lion Court in Honiton.

I outgrew Black Lion Court within six months and started looking elsewhere and took over a shop on Honiton High Street, and then after a year outgrew that one and moved to Colyton nearly three years ago, and set up on Colyton Business Park at The Wheelers Yard in November 2015.

● WHAT kind of services does Icing Occasions offer?

Icing Occasions offers bespoke celebration cakes, as well as cold buffets for businesses, private functions and weddings. I also cater for gluten, dairy and egg free and low sugar requirements.

Icing Occasions has a little shop that sells cake boards, boxes, fondant paste and cake accessories and I run classes on a one-to-one basis or classes that have no more than six for either baking or cake decorating.

I have been busy lately with classes and recently had international, award-winning model artist Barbara Luraschi from Milan here for two days to teach a class for modelling sugar artists from across the country.

Barbara will be back to Icing Occasions next year and hopefully some more award-winning teachers to show all who have never even tried to model that it is possible.

I also just won the Best Cake Designer for Devon and Excellence Award for Wedding Cakes 2017 for Devon from the UK World Wide Business Review.

● DO you have a favourite type of cake to bake?

There are two – Swiss fruity meringues and my big favourite cake to bake is rich chocolate and cherry brandy. It's a very rich, fudgy but fruity cherry with cherry brandy and kirsch.

● WHAT do you enjoy about the job??

I love meeting different people and their reactions when they have made something in my class, and when customers pick up their cake they have ordered and see their design come to fruition. I like all the lovely feedback I have had and when people tell me they will be back.

● YOU set of the Heart of Colyton Facebook group. What's the aim of the group?

I set up the Heart of Colyton Facebook Page because, working alone and often for hours not seeing a soul, I often wondered what was going on in the town.

I felt that it was and is a great community and that everyone has the chance of sharing information that is or was going on in the town that sometimes we miss knowing about.

I also wanted to get the community to realise that Colyton Business Park had businesses that you could make use of and that Colyton doesn't stop at the bridge on Green Lane.

The page now has as businesses sharing their information, schools sharing what's going on, lost and found, flood warnings and information on local events.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO TAKE PART IN THE 60 SECOND INTERVIEW?

Call Francesca Evans on 01297 446154 or email francesca@viewnews.co.uk

● HOW has it developed over time?

The Heart of Colyton page has grown from strength to strength. We have people from across the globe that have family here or used to live here.

● WHAT do you enjoy doing in your spare time?

In my spare time I don't make cakes! I like walking, I fundraise where I can especially for The Hughes Foundation, and my new fundraiser will be MIND due to a lot of ignorance around mental health issues.

● WHAT do you like about living in the local area?

I love Colyton – community-minded locals who all get together for events.

Everyone says 'hello' even if they don't know you. A bit like the days when everyone knew everyone and helped out if needed.

I like the scenery and it's close to Seaton, Lyme Regis and Axminster so it's accessible.

I have to say we have an amazing couple of little local shops and a post office that's open 7.30am to 9pm, now where else could you get that?

WI celebrates 90th year

■ MEMBERS of Colyton WI celebrate the club's 90th anniversary at their exhibition

COLYTON WI celebrated its 90th anniversary with a recent exhibition at St Andrew's Church.

Members of Colyton WI were joined by those from branches across the area in creating a display of inspiring women from the last nine decades. The event, largely organised by Colyton WI member Jackie Roberts Wake, included a wide range of clothing, toys, games and household items in display, as well as scrapbooks depicting the WI's history and the chance to nominate your own inspiring woman.

Visitors were able to enjoy teas, coffee and cake in the Sunday School Building next to the church, and the exhibition was followed on Sunday by a special service of thanksgiving.

Record turnout at memory cafe

THE May meeting of Colyton, Colyford & District Memory Cafe saw a record number of people through the doors, including two dogs.

As May 14th signalled the start of Dementia Awareness Week, the meeting started with a collection for the Alzheimer's Society, followed by seated exercises and a challenging crossword to get members' bodies and brains working.

Entertainment this month came from Year 11 students from Colyton Grammar School, who presented a varied repertoire of classical and modern pieces, played on piano and violin, with some singing, followed by tea and home-made cakes.

After crossword solutions had been shared, members took part in a raffle and then a sing-along with special requests from the extensive song book, performed a cappella, as pianist

Pam was unable to join the meeting this month.

Members are now looking forward to the June meeting, which will mark the memory cafe's second anniversary, with a ride on Seaton Tram followed by a birthday tea at the Colyton station.

If you, or a friend or loved one is experiencing short-term memory loss, or has recently been diagnosed with early dementia, you are welcome to join the memory cafe.

A spokesperson said: "You are assured of a friendly welcome and a cup of tea and home-made cake, and, most importantly, an afternoon of fun and laughter. We warmly welcome both occasional visitors and regular members."

For more information, call Sue Whitell on 01297 599477.

Alumni inspire Colyton students

COLYTON Grammar School is looking to welcome back successful former students to talk to current pupils about their career choices.

The school has already enjoyed talks from a number of ex-students, whose careers have varied from a PGA golfer to IT specialist, medical diagnostics expert to an RAF medic.

Colyton Grammar is hoping to connect with more alumni in the 2017/18 autumn term, with talks being held during the lunch hour from 1pm to 2pm.

A spokesperson for the school said: "We are proud of our past students and would be extremely pleased to welcome you back to the school to talk with the students about your career. We would like to mix your expertise with education, enriching the student experience at Colyton."

Coming back and inspiring will allow you to tour the school, meet with teachers and importantly inspire the students, which in turn will inspire others. Your skills, understanding of career paths, lessons learnt and being a past student of Colyton is all very important to the school."

Anyone interested in giving a talk should email alumni@colytongrammar.devon.sch.uk

Breakfast services at St Andrew's Church

ST Andrew's Church in Colyton is bringing food and worship together with its new breakfast services.

The breakfast service will be held on the third Sunday of event month, starting with bacon rolls and other choices at 10am, followed by a short act of worship at 10.30am, including lively music, story-telling and material aimed at all ages.

The Reverend Hilary Dawson said: "Every service is of course open to people of every generation, but 'all age' worship offers language, music, activities, stories and talks which communicate something to every age group from babies and toddlers through to adults."

"By keeping things short and snappy we're particularly mindful of the needs of families with youngsters. Our plan is to ensure that everyone is fed, in all senses of the word."

Local author to hold signing

COLYTON resident Jim Board will be signing copies of his book 'The River Runs By', which was recently re-printed, on Thursday, June 1st. The book is full of fascinating local stories of days gone by in Colyton.

The signing will be held at Colyton Heritage Centre in Market Place from 10am to 1pm.

The second property was burgled on Sunday, May 14th also at 5am. Access was gained to the property in the Whitwell Lane area of Colyford by reaching through the cat flap. Valuables taken from the house included, a handbag, laptop, mobile phone and digital camera.

■ AXE RIVER: Mark Bugler from Groves Nurseries was our main guest of the evening at our May meeting.

He had brought with him a large array of bedding plants which he proceeded to plant up into different types of hanging baskets and tubs.

We had lots of questions to ask during the demonstration – many concerning the watering and feeding of plants during the Summer months – and we were given lots of tips.

We also learned many tricks of the trade from him concerning the construction of hanging baskets.

The highlight of the demonstration was the formation of a hanging ball of busy lizzies – now we know how it's done!

After tea and biscuits, provided by Jean Watson and Ann Keane, we discussed forthcoming events, which included the next 'Nosh and Natter' event at The Hare & Hounds, the walk round Sidmouth Donkey Sanctuary followed by lunch, the wild meadow visit, and a vineyard trip later in the year.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 20th at 7:30pm when speaker Michael Bennie will be giving us an insight into Dartmoor – Land of Love and Legend.

As usual, all visitors are most welcome.

■ COLYTON: President Shelagh Derwent opened the meeting, welcoming members and Chris Wheeler from Colyford WI who monitored the election of president.

For many years Colyton WI members have knitted teddies and other items for a children's ward in Zimbabwe.

Joy Burley, who has collected and sent the parcels, told members they are now being returned – seven parcels at the last count – and she now has many teddies residing in a spare room; another charity is needed and members are asked for their suggestions.

Jacky Roberts-Wake updated members on the forthcoming exhibition, also requesting help.

Details of the autumn council meeting being held at West Point with a new format was given, with a mixed response.

Help is also need with the Civil War Day in Colyton on June 10th – volunteers are required for the teas please.

President Shelagh presented Elizabeth Cochrane with a belated 90th birthday gift.

The annual meeting commenced, with treasurer Jean Hutton presenting the accounts and the secretary's report.

President Shelagh Derwent gave her report, thanking the committee and presenting Sallie Herniman with a gift as a thank you for all her work as a past treasurer and committee member.

The new committee were presented, with Shelagh unanimously re-elected as president.

There was a competition held in memory of Joyce for six sweet tarts, jointly won by Jean Hutton and Sallie Herniman. The flower of the month was won by Brenda Clark.

■ DAVID Tovey, a leading authority on Cornish Art, gave a talk at the Exeter and District English Speaking Union's Lunch Event earlier this month.

The Exeter and District branch's AGM will be held on June 21st.

Railway club goes back to the beginning of the last century

■ THORNCOMBE RAIL ACTIVITIES CLUB: Ian Bennett entertained us with a series of visits to some of the many small railways that existed in England and Wales in the early years of the 20th century.

Using a series of fascinating historic photos we saw the locomotives, many rather strange, and the wide variety of ancient rolling stock which was all the small railways could afford, together with scenes along the line and some of the stations.

Very few ever made a profit and it was a surprise that some lasted into British Rail days.

In the West Country we visited the Bideford and Appledore railway, which used to run from the centre of Bideford, but with no connection to the mainline, before moving to the long lamented Lynton & Barnstaple line.

This was an efficiently run line, although it could not compete with roads during the winters and succumbed in the 1930s.

A much less efficient operation was our next port of call with a visit to the Weston, Clevedon and Portishead Railway.

This was one of the many small ramshackle lines run by Colonel Stephens.

Another of the Colonel's lines took us to the Kent &

East Sussex Railway. Amazingly this survived into BR days and is now, along the route south from Tenterden, a very successful preserved railway.

We then visited the quaint roadside Wantage Tramway, which was operated by steam, with one of its engines surviving into the 1950s at a South Wales steelworks.

Various other similar small railways were also briefly visited before we left England.

Next we visited Wales to see views of the Padarn Railway that took slates from the Dinorwic Slate Quarries to the main North Wales coast line.

Wales also boasted the oldest public railway, the Swansea &

Mumbles, which started the world's first fare paying public railway with horses in 1807, moved on to steam and ended up with Britain's largest tramcars in the 20th century, finally succumbing to bus competition in 1960.

Our final visit was to the Isle of Man to see the range of steam and electric railways there.

One steam line still operates between Douglas and Port Erin and the whole of the historic electric railway is still in operation with vintage cars.

The next meeting of TRACS will be on Wednesday, June 21st at 7.30pm when Alan Reeve will give us 'Yet More Steam in the 60s'.

■ SEALED AND DISTRICT ART SOCIETY: The May demonstration was by professional artist Gerry Dudgeon on 'Abstracting from the Landscape'.

In the introduction to the session Gerry showed us his sketchbook of walks and he said his paintings were an abstract response to the Dorset countryside.

He started by using very diluted acrylic paint and a large brush dripping it on to a primed board on the floor.

He used pastels and acrylic glaze to under paint which he said help the main painting.

Over the course of the afternoon he used various colours and shades to produce a picture which had depth and perspective; he went on to say he would do further work on the picture later if necessary.

It was an entertaining enjoyable afternoon and Gerry's style of painting simulated much discussion amongst the members.

The next demonstration, on June 5th at Seaton Gateway Town Hall, is 'Along the riverbank' with Norman Rossiter. The demonstration begins at 2pm.

The arrangements for the exhibition are proceeding at a pace. The date for your diary is Saturday, August 3rd to Thursday, August 10th, from 10am to 5pm each day.

Blessing of the crops at Kilmington

■ BELOW: Margaret Hurford (foreground) surveys the food

MALCOLM Miller and family hosted an informal Rogation Service (the blessing of crops) in their farm shop, organised by Kilmington Churches Together.

The service was held on Sunday May 21st. Pastor Darrell Holmes from the Beacon Baptist Chapel led the Service and the Reverend Simon Holloway from St Giles' Church gave the address.

Margaret Hurford was on the keyboard and young musicians led the songs and hymns.

The theme, of course, was to pray for the farmers at the season of planting and for an abundant harvest.

Malcolm helped many in the congregation to plant giant Russian sunflower seeds in a competition to produce the largest head by the Harvest Festival lunch on September 24th.

Interviewed by local resident Brian Lavender during the event, Malcolm described the developments in the business over the past seven years while he has been preparing to hand over and provide a secure future for his son and daughter and their families.

He talked about the crops that he grew and purchased in UK and France and felt that Brexit would not adversely affect their operation. He was thanked for all the generous support that he had given to the churches and the village over many years and the Rev'd Simon presented him with a copy of a new and beautifully produced book on the history of St Giles' Church over a Millennium, written by Michael Tyler.

Mr Lavender said: "It was an interesting and very lively service, which was followed by delicious refreshments organised by Barbara Woodsford, chairman of St Giles' Church Social and Fundraising Committee."

MP still didn't speak out from the backbenches

■ WHEN Sir Hugo Swire was a minister he was often accused by his closest opponent in the East Devon constituency, Claire Wright, of not speaking in Parliament for his constituents.

His standard reply was that because he was a minister, he could not do this.

Then the new Prime Minister decided she could manage without him at the Foreign Office, after which he said: "My local opposition is going to find it rather difficult to criticise me now."

"I'm afraid I'm now going to slightly (sic) shoot their fox."

"Because all the things they say I don't comment on, now I can and I no longer have to support the government."

Intrigued, I searched through the records and can find no evidence that his constituents and their problems, on hospitals, education and much else, that his government introduced, have had any significant recognition from the former minister. Indeed he still has not voted against his government.

However, he has not been idle in asking questions in the Commons.

He has developed a keen interest in the noise emitted by motorcycles and he has asked how many drivers have been prosecuted for leaving their engines running when the vehicle was stationary.

He has also asked questions about Venezuela, North Korea, the Maldives, Myanmar, Sri Lanka and Syria.

The sugar content in drinks and the use of chemical retardants in furniture have also exercised him.

He has rarely mentioned his constituency but, to be fair, he thanked the minister for mentioning the East Devon District Council plan to fine those who feed seagulls.

Surely, all this tells us is that we had a Member of Parliament who did not represent his constituents in the House of Commons and now damages the democratic process by arrogantly refusing to participate in hustings.

There is only one conclusion: we must elect the energetic and caring independent, Claire Wright, whom we know will fight for us in the Commons as she has done on Devon County Council and East Devon District Council.

She has been recognised by the tactical voting website Tactical 2017 as the candidate most likely to defeat the Conservatives.

PHILIP ALGAR,
West Hill

Is Sir Hugo scared to debate Claire?

■ SHAME on Sir Hugo Swire for refusing to debate with Claire Wright, and other candidates ('Hugo no show at East Devon hustings' - Pulman's, May 23rd).

For many decades the people of East Devon have been able to attend public meetings where parliamentary candidates debate with each other, and are questioned on their policies.

It is important that the public are able to see would-be MPs, especially incumbents representing the party of government, having their policies scrutinised.

Hugo Swire has diminished the electoral process, and has diminished parliamentary accountability, by his very regrettable decision.

Claire Wright has been challenging Sir Hugo and his policies for a long time.

On May 21st 2016 Claire organised a demonstration outside Ottery Hospital as part of her campaign to save local hospital services. Hugo Swire turned up at the event, but the remarks he made were very badly received by the large number of local people present.

Could it be that Sir Hugo is now afraid to debate with Claire because of what happened a year ago?

ROGER GILES,
via email

■ AS A regular correspondent with Mr Swire on an increasing number of important, sometimes critical issues, I am personally dissatisfied with receiving responses simply citing the party line and not hearing what the Conservative incumbent has to say for himself; to actually give me his opinion.

Claire Wright will be free of the three line whip and party pressures and will not simply be a government mouthpiece when it comes to real issues that affect the residents of East Devon. The status quo has been in place for far too long.

Indeed, we need to reverse the degradation of services in our hospitals, schools, social care, mental health and transport which will surely improve the quality of all our lives, not just the privileged few.

With currently no other real political alternative to change in our part of the world, the only way for me and perhaps other non, or disaffected Conservatives to vote is Claire Wright - Independent.

MARTIN WELLER,
Exmouth

■ IT IS time for the people of Devon to wake up and recognise the achievements of East Devon's hardworking Member of Parliament, and pay attention to his sharp political understanding of the world.

Residents in the East Devon constituency seem to be falling over themselves to endorse Britain's leading independent Claire Wright.

For the sake of balance, it falls to me to issue a panegyric in praise of the neglected incumbent.

His time in government must have been outstanding. Why else would he have been awarded a knighthood by his old school friend David Cameron?

Few careworkers in Devon have the energy to hold down as many jobs as he is paid to undertake around the world.

Unlike George Osborne, our representative did not feel the need to resign from Parliament after moving to the back benches and taking on other duties, even though he has the burden of travelling long distances on his occasional visits to this constituency.

Is anybody ungrateful enough to deny that keeping our Member and his Lady on our payroll will ensure value for money to the students, workers and pensioners living in the eastern part of Greater Exeter?

When offshore assets were disclosed in the Panama papers it was he who succinctly dismissed mischievous intrusive personal enquiries from journalists as 'Class War'.

No other politician in the West of England has anatomised contemporary society with such Marxist precision.

Need I say more? Sharp, smart, well-connected and busy, he is the party man every Tory should ponder extremely carefully as we decide which side to back on June 8th.

ROBERT CRICK,
Sidmouth

Now entering its fifth year, the Food & Families Festival is a non-profit event, organised by a group of locals with an unmatched passion and enthusiasm for all things tasty and locally sourced.

The festival aims to raise local and regional awareness of Ottery St. Mary by providing a great day out for all the family to enjoy.

The festival involves local groups to help raise awareness of healthy and locally produced and sourced products and provide an opportunity for local enterprises to showcase their business to the community and tourist trade.

One thing for sure is that there will be no shortage of wonderful food and delicious drink available throughout the day.

This year, the festival features cookery demonstrations from The Deer Park Hotel, The Pig at Combe, Exeter Cookery School, Tina Chauhan and Bowmers Restaurant. Up and coming talent will be showcased with Young South West Chef of the Year, Ethan Clarke from The Kings School in the town, plus fellow students Ffion Gallantree and Skye Clarke.

Tickety-Boo is hosting a children's fun cookery event, with story time at the library and other activities at the Institute.

A street market on the day allows visitors to enjoy fare from South West producers such as Bloomberry Juice Company, Eat the Smoke, Dartmoor Chilis, Coldharbour Farm, Exeter Brewery, Frandie Macaron and Shaldon Bakery.

Looking to buy a new chair?

AT Chair Choice our aim is to offer everyone the benefit of our knowledge and experience with honest, genuine help and advice. All ranges are carefully selected from reliable suppliers (British manufacturers wherever possible) for their quality and value for money. We make no false claims or too good to be true offers. We do not sell online or mail order as we believe you should benefit from the many advantages of dealing with your local retailer.

When selecting your new chair consider the size and proportion of the user as well as the room. If you are concerned by the size of your new furniture we would ask you to supply relevant measurements, for example the size of existing item or the space available. Trying to evaluate by eye can be deceptive as a model you judge to be too big may in fact be smaller than it appears in our showroom. Whilst measurements such as seat height are a useful guide, seat and back angles are more influential in the way a chair feels to sit in and use so it is important to try different models and options before you buy.

At Chair Choice we have over 100 chairs for you to see and try including lounge, wing, fireside, high seat, reclining plus electric rise and recline models. Many models are offered in a range of sizes with 2 or 3 seater settees to match.

Devon Appliances

DEVON Appliances was formed in 2013 as a sister company to PB Home Solutions of Seaton in Devon by Paul Bromfield, PB supply and install leading brands of kitchens, bathrooms and bedrooms throughout East Devon, West Dorset and South Somerset. This was the natural step to take as more and more customers were being supplied "White Goods" and appliances from PB's showroom in Fore Street. In 2015 Devon Appliances became members of Euronics thus being able to expand their product range enabling them to offer customers a greater range of appliances together with stable prices.

Devon Appliances hold a full range of white goods from major brands like Bosch, Neff, Siemens, Zanussi, Hoover, Blomberg, iRobot, Lec, Beko Etc and offer an installation and removal service together with free local delivery.

Church Street Antiques

CHURCH STREET ART AND ANTIQUES in Sidmouth is an art gallery which sells an eclectic mix of affordable art mostly by listed artists. Whether your taste is for traditional art or more abstract and quirky pieces, it is worth giving Church Street Art and Antiques a visit at the shop at 7 Church Street, Sidmouth, opposite Sidmouth Parish Church. Sidmouth is a popular coastal visitor destination, with a mix of largely independent shops and cafes.

All the works are individual and original and the collection is ever changing. One particular emphasis is on Marine and Seascapes, which are very popular and reflect the area's special qualities. There are usually a number of works of this type on display in water-colour, oil or mixed media. We also have studio collections that we can show you images of.

KEEP CRITTERS AT BAY

by Hannah Stephenson, Press Association

WET and warm weather can create a breeding ground for pests and diseases attacking our crops. Hannah Stephenson looks at the problems we may encounter and reveals how to tackle them

While the mild weather and heavy rainfall of late may be good for the garden, it also provides an ideal breeding ground for pests and diseases.

Rot and grey mould may attack strawberry beds, codling moths could invade apple and plum trees, while aphids, carrot fly and slugs and snails will undoubtedly be doing their utmost to munch through our precious crops.

So, who are the main culprits and what can we do about them?...

Slugs and snails: These are the most persistent and troublesome pests in wet weather, as they have a taste for tender edible crops, including lettuces and beans, while below ground they can burrow through potato tubers. Pick them off veg as you see them and be vigilant, particularly after rainfall. Alternatively, spread really sharp grit around vulnerable plants or at the edge of vegetable beds. If you have veg in pots, try wrapping copper tape around the top of the pot, which acts like a tiny electric fence.

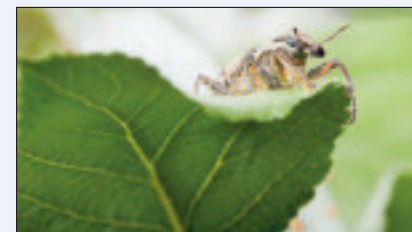

Grey mould: This can be a real problem when strawberries are just starting to ripen. You need to avoid watering strawberry beds as the fruit develops grey mould if it's in contact with wet ground. Try to stop the rot by sliding a strawberry mat around the collar of each plant, or tuck handfuls of straw around the plants to keep the fruit off the ground.

Codling moths: The caterpillars of these small moths bore into apples and pears in summer, causing the fruits to ripen and drop early. Often you can see the small, brown, white-headed caterpillar at the core. To protect trees, set codling moth traps, which look like bright yellow or green tents, to which the insects are attracted, and then glued to the spot. Place a small amount of pheromone in the trap (this comes in the kit) to lure males in, and once they are out of the picture, females will remain infertile.

Vine weevil: These beetles can prove devastating to plants, particularly those in pots, but also among strawberry plants. The beetles eat the leaves between spring and summer while their white maggot-looking larvae eat the roots of the plant. Often the discovery of the larvae is made too late, when the grubs have literally chomped their way through the roots of the plant, effectively killing it. On mild spring or summer evenings, inspect plants and walls by torchlight and pick off the adult weevils, which are black with dull yellow markings. To deter them, you can use biological nematodes Nemasys vine weevil killer in early spring or autumn, mixing with water and soaking the plant. Or use a special compost with an anti-vine-weevil ingredient when planting containers.

Woolly aphid: These insects, which often invade apple trees, hide under a white fluff which is often mistaken for mould. The blackish brown aphids suck sap from the woody stems from spring and, if not tackled, are likely to spread to younger shoots by summer. Their damage can lead to lumpy growths in the bark, which can split in the winter, and lead to apple canker. Scrub colonies with a stiff bristled brush in spring or early summer.

Carrot fly: If you haven't yet covered your carrots with fine insect-proof mesh, don't waste any time. It will also screen out greenfly and blackfly and won't trap heat underneath, so it can be used in summer. Grow tall-growing crops like Brussels sprouts away from the blanket covering, and make each plant an individual covering so they remain caterpillar-free. Plants that need pollinating to produce a crop, such as beans and courgettes, will need to be uncovered when they start flowering, to allow access for pollinating insects.

Celebrating 10 years!

THIS year's Ilminster Midsummer Experience runs from Thursday 8th through to Sunday 11th June. This is its 10th year and it is now firmly in place as one of the town's summer highlights. Quite literally the flagship of the event is over 100 flags which will be put up for 4 weeks starting Sunday 28th May.

Over the 4 days there are more than 25 events including all the traditional activities such as the Food and Craft Market on Saturday 10th and on Sunday on the Recreation Ground there is the Classic Car Show, Fun Dog Show, Rotary's Lunch on the Rec, the great Fun Fair and the Food Court this year with pizzas, crepes, exotic burgers and tasty sausage and bacon baps washed down with delicious hot and cold drinks. You can also join in the Lunch on the Rec this year with a fabulous menu of locally sourced food and drink. Open to all so get a group of friends together and take a table - there is nothing as nice as eating in the open air, albeit under canvas.

We are in England, after all. This year there will be several new events starting with the innovative Suitcase Market in the Market House. This is not a market where you can buy your holiday suitcase, it is a place where micro-craftmakers can sell their superb works out of a suitcase-sized pitch and is a chance to pick up a unique work from local artists.

Also on Saturday is a chance to hear the Gledholt Choir perform in the Minster. This is an international standard male voice choir from Yorkshire and will be a rare treat. Other favourites include the Community Drive in Greenfylde School entrance where local good causes strut their stuff, and Open Days at the Warehouse Theatre and the Masonic Lodge.

On Sunday there will be a chance to see and support Gary Clarke, Britain's Disability Strongman as he demonstrates his incredible strength in a Truck Pull. Gary needs our support in his ambition to get to stage future British Champions in Ilminster.

There will also be the Strolling Garage Sale where anyone can de-clutter their loft or garage by pre-registering their address at Remains to be Seen in East Street where you will be included on a town-wide map which people can pick up to hunt for bargains on the day.

To find out more about all the events go to www.ilminsterexperience.co.uk.

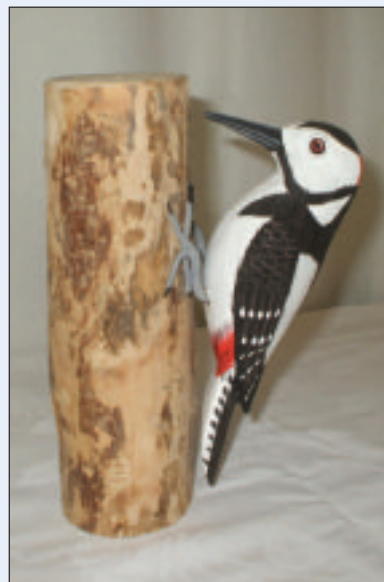

JUST THINGS

JUST Things is Ilminster's fair trade shop where everything we sell is fairly traded and includes food, drinks, cards, jewellery, toys, gifts and some clothing. Just Things is proud to be a member of the British Association for Fair Trade Shops.

Our most popular lines at the moment are incense, soap and the lovely wooden toys. New in stock are shape sorters and block puzzles for our younger customers, who also keep warm and look good in the colourful acrylic knitted jackets from Peru.

We have painted dragonflies and other garden ornaments as well as gardening gloves. The glass windchimes can be used outside or inside as can the tumblers and wine glasses! For indoors, the hand painted British birds, made in Indonesia fly off the shelves almost as soon as they arrive. Speaking of flying, the fairies and angels as well as the pixies and pirates, made in India continue to find favour with both adults and children. Cotton bags and scarves are both a practical and attractive gift and light to post if necessary.

We hope you enjoy IMEX and that the sun shines.

LINDY PARRY Podiatrist/Chiropodist

I HOLD my private chiropody clinic at Townsend House Surgery in Seaton.

I offer a range of treatments from a simple nail cut to nail surgery, and each treatment plan is priced accordingly.

The nail cutting only service is a shorter appointment and is ideal for those that don't have any other foot care needs. Others like to alternate nail cuts with chiropody treatments as it best suits their requirements. I always aim to work with the patient to find the best treatment plan to suit each individual. Patients feet are then monitored during treatment so that changes can be made should the need arise.

Diabetic patients who attend for chiropody will also have a diabetic foot assessment carried out during their first treatment, and will then be monitored and re-assessed as necessary.

My chiropody clinics are available to anybody seeking help with their feet and Townsend House and I look forward to welcoming you.

Bookings can be made by calling 01297 22956.

BOWEN THERAPY & ENERGY HEALING

UNDERSTANDING THE BIGGER PICTURE OF YOUR PAIN!

WHEN we are faced with having to Address chronic or acute pain, aches, autoimmune conditions, chronic fatigue, stress or tension, insomnia, hormonal imbalance, although each one of these presents itself differently they do in fact ask of us to approach them from the same place initially.

All of these symptoms and more are nothing more than messengers that are telling us somehow somewhere inside we are out of balance and that we are not co-operating with the natural flow of life, meaning that there is a certain amount of resistance that has built up physically, emotionally, mentally and energetically somewhere along the lines of our lives.

The first 3 most critical and revealing questions I ask my clients when they come and see me for a whole array of conditions and issues are, what is the problem, when did it start and what was going on in your life when this first started.

It is very important for you to know that it is nearly NEVER just about your present symptoms, there is always a much bigger picture that needs to be looked at for us to properly get to the root of your pain, injury or condition long term. Medication is often a temporary fix and addressing symptoms only is clearly and completely missing the point hence allot of the time you never really resolve the current problem.

I have been in practice for 8 years now and what i have learned the most is that Understanding is Power and for all of us it is the very beginning of our healing journeys before any treatment often even begins.

If this resonates with you then i would encourage you to get in touch and take advantage of my introductory offer.

MICHELLE HAGUE Clinical Hypnotherapy

Hypnotherapy for phobias – Facts about Phobias

DO you have an intense fear for animals, driving, heights, blood, spiders, planes, needles, or something else? Would you rather climb ten flights of stairs rather than get into a lift?

All people have fears or situations they would rather avoid. It is part of everyday life and it's an important natural process that helps to keep us safe. Some people are frightened by interviews, public speaking, or socialising whilst some are uncomfortable being at home alone at night. Most people manage to control their fears and go about their normal activities.

But for some people, anxieties and fears are overwhelming and persistent.

Normal coping mechanisms don't work, and the need to avoid the objects or situations that cause anxiety can be so intense that they drastically interfere with daily life, even though they know the response is inappropriate.

Of course people with phobias realise their fears are irrational, but often facing, or even thinking about facing, the brings on a panic attack or severe anxiety.

Many find that their lives are impaired by phobic symptoms.

If you have a fear or a phobia, or are anxious and the stress is causing you a problem maybe it's time to take control of your life, and change it, once and for all.

Michelle is a qualified and very experienced professional Clinical and Cognitive Behavioural Hypnotherapist, based in Axminster who uses her skills to work with you to find the right solution for you.

7 SIMPLE SOLUTIONS TO HELP EASE HEADACHES

by Sam Wylie-Harris, Press Association

HEADACHES are one of the most common health complaints. In fact, according to the NHS, more than 10 million people in the UK suffer from them regularly.

See your GP if you experience severe or continuing headaches, especially if you've got other symptoms, but in the vast majority of cases, headaches are not a sign of anything serious.

While head pain can be draining and distressing, there are lots of actions you can take to gain respite that don't involve popping a pill (in fact, long-term painkiller use can sometimes cause chronic headaches).

Next time you're struck with an annoying throb on the crown, try these simple lifestyle remedies to alleviate your suffering.

AND BREATHE: Take some deep breaths, and try to inhale deeply from your stomach, expanding and contracting the abdomen, which clears the way for a full breathing cycle; sometimes ensuring there's a good flow of oxygen to the brain can help relieve pain. Taking deep breaths also helps to instantly calm you if you're feeling stressed or overwhelmed, conditions often associated with headaches.

KEEP WELL-HYDRATED: Headaches can be caused by dehydration, so the best thing to do is take in plenty of fluids. Research suggests 16 to 32 ounces is the average amount of water needed to feel hydrated. Start by taking small, regular sips and you should feel better in a couple of hours.

MASSAGE TECHNIQUES: Massaging the neck area and pressure points can help relieve pain. Even a little light kneading on the temples can bring relief. Applying pressure to the ridge of the neck and walking your fingers from the shoulders up to the neck and down again can release tension from the body.

LIGHTS OUT: Taking time out, closing your eyes and lying down in a dark, quiet room for at least 20 minutes can help. Many headaches (especially migraines) can be triggered by sensory stimuli, such as bright or flickering lights.

HOT SHOWER: Taking a hot shower can bring welcome relief. The sensation of hot water flowing over the head is not only comforting, but can take your mind off the pain. Spritzing yourself with lavender water afterwards can also trigger a feeling of wellbeing.

CHAMOMILE TEA: A soothing cup of chamomile can help reduce inflammation and relieve anxiety. Chamomile contains compounds that can ease pain and relax you. Also available in liquid extract and a skin ointment, try dabbing it on the temples.

WALK IT OFF: A fast walk in the fresh air can help clear the mind. Circulating the system and filling your lungs with air will provide your body with much-needed oxygen. If it's a really bad headache, you can wear a pair of sunglasses to block out the sunlight.

Concert of Summer Songs Axminster and District Society to perform in June

AXMINSTER and District Choral Society will present a concert of 'Summer Songs', featuring The Sprig of Thyme by John Rutter and From the Bavarian Highlands by Elgar, on Saturday, June 10th.

Folk songs have passed down from generation to generation, telling timeless stories of ordinary people's lives. In The Sprig of Thyme John Rutter has collected songs from across the British Isles to make up a colourful musical patchwork of human experience. Through simple, direct language and lilting melodies the songs tell us about the complexities of human life - especially where love is concerned!

Rutter says this about his feeling for the music: "For children growing up in post-war England as I did, traditional songs still form a common musical currency. These songs brought me delight and pleasure then, and they still do now, though pleasure has become tinged with nostalgia because, for the most part, they are forgotten and gone from our lives, perhaps forever. The Sprig of Thyme is an affectionate tribute to their composers and poets; a few were renowned, most were obscure or unknown, but the songs they created were famous, and I remember them fondly."

During the 1890s, the Elgars spent a succession of holidays in Southern Bavaria, staying in Oberstdorf and Garmisch. The couple spent a number of evenings in local hostels where they drank while watching displays of folk dances of the region. During the day they walked and admired the Alpine scenery. Both activities fired their imagination. On returning from their 1894 holiday, Elgar began work setting to music six poems Alice had written in the style of Bavarian folk-songs with their joyful alpine rhythms.

Director of Music, Peter Parshall, will conduct the mixed voice choir of some fifty voices.

Peter has established a reputation in the area as a very talented, conductor. Director of Music at Axminster Parish Church, Director of RSCM Voices West, Axminster Chamber Choir, and Accompanist to Bridport Choral Society. He is also Musical Director of Yeovil Chamber Chorale and recently guest conductor with Lyme Bay Chorale.

An organ scholar of Westminster College, Oxford, Peter was appointed Director of Music at St Mary Magdalene Church, Oxford, where, in 1997, he established a professional eight-voice choir. He was Director of Chapel Music at Westminster College, Oxford and organist to the Cathedral Singers of Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford.

As a composer, Peter has been commissioned by choirs in the UK, Ireland and the USA and his music has been performed on the BBC and RTE networks. He is the co-editor of the choral anthology, Weddings for Choirs.

The concert will take place at the Minster, Axminster 7.00 pm. There will be light refreshments including summer punch.

Tickets £10.00 from Archway Books, Church St, Axminster, members of the choir or phone 01404 881 838.

Joyous June at The Beehive with brilliant theatre, fab films and some great gigs

AFTER a splendid May with super shows like A Night at The Musicals from Honiton theatre Co, and The Festival of Imagination, we sashay into June which has a barny selection of diverse events and hopefully something to suit everyone!

The wonderfully wicked boys from Le Navet Bete return on June 3rd at 7pm with their eagerly awaited production of 'Dracula - The Bloody Truth'. Check out the trailer and you'll soon realise why they have such a following; utterly bonkers, masterful clowning and a fantastic rapport with their audiences. Please note despite the scary pics - this production is suitable for 7+ and is hilarious NOT scary, and it really is a show for all ages, I know several students are coming to see them.

We are also thrilled to have the marvellous Exeter based Scratchworks theatre Co. with their fabulous show, 'The Great Train Robbery', on Saturday, June 17th at 7pm this is a great, alternative take on the heist in 1963, prepare to be surprised - really great stuff!

Upcoming films we have are: 'Hidden Figures' (PG) Friday, June 2nd 7.30pm, which is the true story of the African American women, who despite racism and segregation at work, created the vital data needed to successfully launch NASA's space missions.

On Saturday 10th at 7.30pm we have the inspiring Eco docu-

the beehive
with Wendy Van Der Plank

mentary 'Tomorrow/Demain' followed by informal discussion in the bar. Climate is changing. Instead of showing the worst that can happen, this documentary focuses on the people suggesting solutions and their actions. Some subtitles and all tickets only £5.

'Their Finest' (12A) starring Bill Nighy, Gemma Arterton and Sam Claflin is a good natured, romantic, war time drama, where a motley team of characters are commissioned to make a British propaganda film. Bring on the Blitz Spirit!

We then have the Royal Opera House Live screening of 'Otello' (12A) on Wednesday, June 28th at 7.15pm. This brand new production of Verdi's tragic masterpiece, offers a chance to see the world's most famous tenor, Jonas Kaufman take to the stage in this iconic role. Musically Verdi draws upon Shakespeare's harrowing text to create a score that carries heart-thumping intensity and the results are thrilling: from the violent storm that opens the opera to Iago's blood-chilling Credo and Otello's increasingly desperate duets with Desdemona. Sung in Italian, with subtitles.

Four fab gigs are lined up for June beginning with The Jigantics and support act Roseanna Ball on Friday 9th at 7.30pm. This five piece, Americana influenced, folk and roots band have a wonderful repertoire of foot tapping, feel good numbers with a few real tear jerkers thrown in too!

Then for something completely different we have the inimitable Gaz Brookfield, a brilliant modern day balladeer with awesome lyrics and not a little social comment! He will be accompanied by fab fiddle player Ben Wain. These lads are well worth coming to listen to, regulars on the festival circuit and Gaz is winner of Acoustic magazine's Singer-Songwriter of the year. (14+) Friday, June 16th, 8pm.

On Saturday, June 24th at 7.30pm 'The Darkside of Pink Floyd' will be appearing with an amazing sound and light show - this is not just any tribute band. These guys are real passionate Floyd fans and it shows with their faithful interpretations of the band's biggest and best loved numbers.

On Friday, June 30th Bring on the surf and sunshine with another excellent tribute act, in 'The Beach Boys Story', they may not look like them, but they sure do sound like them! We've heard rave reviews about this show, so we had to book some sensational summer sounds!

That's the round up for now, we all look forward to seeing you soon!

Wendy and the Beehive bunch.

Artist Maureen Cooper fell under the spell of the garden at Morville Dower House the minute she first stepped into it. She has spent several years recording the garden over the seasons and the resulting artworks will be on display in Morville: A Garden in another Time from June 19th - July 8th. Using photographs and Polaroids as her starting point, Maureen captures the historical, horticultural and literary associations of this special garden.

Maureen will be in the IAC gallery on the morning of Saturday, June 24th to talk about the ideas and inspiration behind the exhibition.

All or Nothing

THE SENSATIONAL Mod musical All or Nothing is coming to the Exeter Northcott Theatre in June.

Written by the award-winning actress Carol Harrison, All or Nothing tells the electrifying yet bittersweet tale of Kenney Jones, Ian McLagan, Ronnie Lane and Steve Marriott; four charismatic young kids from East London with humour, attitude, passion and above all talent. They became The Small Faces and were rocketed into the big time, only to discover the path to fantastic success is paved with exploitation, betrayal and ultimately tragedy.

In 1964, a new phenomenon exploded on to the dingy British streets. It was the essence of all that was cool. It was Mod. Mods stuck two fingers up at the class-ridden society and its dull redundant culture. They were working-class free spirits who rode sexy streamlined Italian Vespas or Lambrettas. The sharpest Mod of all was known as a 'face'. The Small Faces encapsulated all that is Mod, a unique blend of taste and testosterone, neat, clothes obsessed, and streetwise. But these cult sophisticates shared another passion, their dedication to 'Rhythm and Blues'.

All or Nothing celebrates the unique sound of the iconic Mod band. The musical is packed full of all the timeless hits, including the brilliant Whatcha Gonna Do About It, Tin Soldier, Lazy Sunday, Here Comes the Nice, Itchycoo Park and of course All or Nothing.

Carol Harrison said "It's a real honour to be able to bring the extraordinary world of The Small Faces back to the fans and to a brand new audience, young and old. Audiences have embraced the chance to enjoy a bit of mod nostalgia and the critics have all acknowledged the vivid underground vibe on stage as we bring the 60s scene into sharp focus. Our live band and cast tell the story of the rise and fall of the band, a journey as colourful as their sound, and get to showcase an amazing catalogue of music - hard edged R&B."

The show runs from Monday, June 26th to Wednesday, June 28th and can be bought online at www.exeternorthcott.co.uk or at the Northcott Box Office by calling 01392 726363.

Made to Measure

CYGNET Theatre is a drama school and production company based at the Cygnet Theatre in Exeter.

It was founded in 1980 out of an association between Monica Shallis, Mary G. Evans and the Northcott Theatre, Exeter, then under the direction of Richard Digby Day. Cygnet Theatre regularly produce plays to a professional standard, both at the Cygnet Theatre and on tour, giving its students a first-hand experience of life in the theatre industry. It is one of the smallest drama schools in the UK, and is based here on our West Country doorstep. Cygnet visited Shute last year with a production of 'A Winter's Tale' another Shakespearian classic. A wonderful evening of entertainment. This years' performance should not be missed.

S.T.A.G. (Shute Theatre and Arts Guild) is proud to be hosting this 'On Tour' production of Shakespeare's 'Measure for Measure' in Shute Church on Friday, June 2nd at 7.30pm.

Tickets available online via www.cygnettheatre.co.uk also via www.shutetheatreandartsguild.org.uk or on the door, although booking is advisable.

MAY has proved to be another month when great music was enjoyed by large audiences at The David Hall.

On Saturday 6th we welcomed the Dorset duo Ninebarrow for their first visit. This multi-award-winning two-some thrilled all present with their innovative and captivating take on the Folk Tradition. Jon and Jay combined breath-taking vocal harmonies and melodies, delivering songs that are inspired and rooted in the history of the British Isles. They will be back!

Saturday 13th saw the return of the remarkable singer/songwriter, Martin Simpson. Like a good wine, Martin's performances mature and improve every time I hear him. He is a formidable guitarist who, for the past 40 years, has been impressing audiences throughout the length and breadth of the UK and beyond. A complete professional, Martin gave, and always gives, a brilliant performance.

On Saturday 27th a truly special night took place when Phil Beer brought his full 'Folk n Roll' band to us for the first time. What a brilliant night this was, enjoyed by a capacity audience. Although Phil is best known as part of Show of Hands, it was clear that he loves performing with Gareth Turner (melodeons), Olivia Dunn (fiddles), Emily Slade (guitar, vocals) Nick Quarmby (base) and Steve Crickett (drums). Fantastic musicians playing great music was a winning formula. The night was made all the more special by a support slot from The Hawthornes who, on their first visit, really impressed.

June gets off to a great start when on Thursday 8th we shall welcome back the British Blues artist, Martin Harley. Martin is a superbly talented Acoustic, Roots and Blues guitarist, singer and songwriter, with a burgeoning global reputation. Blues get no better than this.

On Friday 16th the impressive and original songwriter, Lucy Ward, will deliver her totally unique voice and material to everyone present. Having come up through the Folk Tradition, Lucy's music has a sense of rooted belonging, earning her BBC2 Folk Awards and even a nomination for Folk Singer of the Year. This is a great act to get you in the right frame of mind for the events on the following day when, on Saturday 17th June, the 6th Petherton Folk Fest will take place in South Petherton. This free event starts at 10am and will continue until 6.30pm. A mix of dance, music, workshops, and much entertainment for the kids, is guaranteed.

Just a quick reminder that the new David Hall programme for July to December is now available both in print and on line at www.thedavidhall.org.uk

Happy listening!

Blood Brothers well received in Exmouth

ADC Youth recently took a section from their forthcoming production of Blood Brothers, the play by Willy Russell, to the Exmouth One Act Play Festival, where it was enthusiastically received.

It was a great opportunity for the young actors to get a professional adjudication on their performances before bringing it to the Axminster Guildhall on June 22nd to 25th. They had a fantastic time and even won the Magic Moment Award for their interpretation.

If you don't know the show, Blood

Brothers was written by Willy Russell (writer of Educating Rita and Shirley Valentine) and tells the captivating and moving tale of twins who, separated at birth, grow up on opposite sides of the tracks, only to meet again with fateful consequences. ADC Youth are performing it at the Axminster Guildhall on June 22nd to 25th. Tickets are available now online at www.ticketsource.co.uk/axminster-drama-club and from Archway Bookshop, Church Street, Axminster.

Advertiser's announcement

Something to hope for

OUR Sunday Bible talks in June are about 'hope'. Hope is a vital part of the human spirit - a powerful motivating force for thoughts, plans and actions. Its about having things as we want them to be when we can't guarantee that they will be. The saying, 'hoping against hope', means we strongly wish for something to happen although knowing it is unlikely. It expresses the uncertainty that is part of hope in small things and big ones. And to have your hopes dashed can be a most devastating experience.

By contrast, hope, as it appears in the pages of the Bible, is different. If we believe that the Bible is what it claims to be - God's word - then the hope that it speaks of contains no uncertainty. For example, the words at the head of this advertisement speak of an eternal government to come in the world which will bring unending peace. The Bible tells of a time that lies ahead when the kingdoms of this world will "become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign forever and ever!". (Revelation 11:15)

Now there's something to hope for.

The Bible Still the book for today

"Of the increase of his government and of peace there will be no end"

(Isaiah 9:7)

Get the taste for a new Suzuki this summer

THE all-new GSX-R1000 will be available to test ride from a series of biker cafés this year, as Suzuki embarks on a summer tour of some of the most popular haunts in the country. Starting at the Green Welly Stop in Tyndrum, Scotland, on June 3, the tour takes in seven weekends, ending at Suzuki's local bike café, the Super Sausage in Towcester, on September 30th.

The new GSX-R1000 features a host of MotoGP-derived technology, including a clever variable valve timing system that gives the new sportsbike both 202hp and 117.6Nm of torque. It gets a 10-stage traction control system governed by an inertial measurement unit that also controls rear wheel lift under braking. There are also three power modes and ABS, while the GSX-R1000R also gets launch control, lean angle-sensitive ABS, and a bi-directional quickshifter and autoblipper, plus Showa's race-proven Balance Free suspension. Suzuki's demo fleet will also feature the new V-Strom 650, which gets more power and torque for 2017, plus a two-mode traction control system – which can also be turned off – and a new design, as well as the bigger V-Strom 1000, which features lean angle-sensitive ABS and a two-mode traction control system.

Joining Suzuki's GSX-S range for 2017 is a new GSX-S750, which takes its engine from the iconic GSX-R750. It gets the same dash and three-mode traction control system as the bigger GSX-S1000 and GSX-S1000F, and all three will be available to test ride as part of the café tour, along with the SV650 middleweight naked.

Suzuki GB marketing manager, Rob Cooper, announced the tour, saying, "This is the third year of our biker café tour, which has proven both immensely popular and successful over the last couple of years. By visiting the cafés we're getting out there and bringing our bikes to a wider audience. As a result, we're making the test ride experience even easier, and spending time with people we're perhaps not currently seeing at other events or in dealerships. We've cherry-picked some of the most popular destinations across the country, and will be running two-day events at all of the cafés on the calendar. We're now looking forward to the first event next month."

Those wishing to book a test ride in advance can do so by visiting <https://bikes.suzuki.co.uk/cafe-tour/>

The new Fiat 500L: Even more convenient, even more technology

HAVING dominated its segment, across Europe, for five years, here comes the new Fiat 500L. The roomiest 500 of all is now even more full of technology and has even more character and personality. These characteristics combine in the three distinct versions of the car: Urban, Cross and Wagon, offered with a choice of petrol and diesel engines to delight different people and serve their individual needs.

All three share outstanding safety features and a flexible internal configuration, enabling customers to create up to 1,500 internal customisations. The 500 style is even more obvious in this updated version, on which 40% of all components are new. The Fiat 500L combines all the style and excitement of the Fiat 500 with the spaciousness and functionality of an MPV.

Even more 500

The new Fiat 500L is designed to reinforce the family feeling of the model. The exterior style expresses all the distinctive elements which have characterised the model throughout its history, ever since its iconic 1950s forerunner. The most obvious visual links are the "moustache and badge" combo set on the trapezoidal nose, the upper headlights with chrome-plated elements and the lower cluster, now with LED daytime running lights, which pick up the graphics of the two "zeros" in 500. These elements ensure that this new car is clearly identifiable as a Fiat 500L, even in the dark.

The revised front bumper with signature trapezoidal trim and the chromed "studded" three-dimensional lower grille mesh give the car an elegant look. At the same time, the chromed strips, which direct the eye to the wheel arches, convey toughness, resulting in the new Fiat 500L looking even more expressive. The chromed inserts at the rear underline the 500 family feeling and horizontal trims reinforce the car's presence on the road. The fog and reversing lights are now in the underside of the bumper, increasing their effectiveness.

The new Fiat 500L is available in ten pastel or metallic colours and with three types of roof: body-coloured, glossy black or white or matt black, giving customers a choice of no less than 36 colour combinations. The colours available are the new Denim Blue, Sicilian Orange and Donatello Bronze, Bossa Nova White, Hip Hop Yellow, Darkwave Black, Minimal Grey, Heavy Metal Grey, Beatbox Green and Pasodoble Red.

Engines

The engines most suited for the specific needs of customers were picked for the different identities of the model. The petrol engine line-up includes the 1.4-litre 16V, delivering 95hp, and the 1.4-litre 16V T-Jet, delivering 120hp. The offering is completed by two diesel engines: the 95hp 1,300cc 16V MultiJet, also available with Dualogic transmission, and the 120hp 1,600cc 16V MultiJet. All engines comply with the Euro 6 standards and combine optimal performance with impressive fuel economy.

The new Fiat 500L will be priced from £16,195 OTR for a Fiat 500L Urban 1.4 95hp Pop Star, with first deliveries taking place from September.

New Volkswagen Crafter offered with no-cost servicing deal

VOLKSWAGEN Commercial Vehicles is offering two complimentary services to customers who place orders on a new Crafter before 2 July and register it by 30 September 2017.

Available on all 2017 Crafter models, whether acquired through hire purchase, lease purchase, contract hire or finance lease*, the offer has been launched to help customers to minimise vehicle costly downtime and maximise value.

Designed to give Crafter customers an extra helping hand in the initial ownership period of their new vehicle, the added value offer includes both an interim and full service. The offer not only frees the new owners from routine servicing bills for the first part of the vehicle's life, but also guarantees all work is carried out by a qualified Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles technician.

The latest offer forms part of a wider portfolio of services available to businesses in helping with the scheduling and management of servicing and routine maintenance. Schemes such as Volkswagen Commercial Vehicle Financial Service's Driveline, which is designed to benefit customers purchasing their fleet via contract hire or finance lease, offers a dedicated 24-hour phone line, available 365 days a year to provide instant help when you need it, whether for booking services, ordering new tyres, glass repairs or breakdown and recovery services.

James Douglas, Head of Sales Operations at Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles, said: "We believe this is a great offer for customers and a great way to introduce new Crafter to the market. It's not only a good deal but also demonstrates, in concrete terms, our desire to work with them, in partnership, and add value to their vehicle operation."

Customers wishing to extend their servicing agreement can go on to buy services 3 and 4 for £349, which offers additional interim and a full service, plus an MOT* (mileage and restrictions apply).

The award winning Crafter is currently available via a number of competitive finance deals, with finance lease and contract hire available. Further information can be found via Van Centres or via the Volkswagen Commercial Vehicle website.

Cronies FC crowned once again

CRONIES FC crowned an amazing season with their fourth major trophy when they defeated Carlsberg South West Peninsula League side Sidmouth Town in the Morrison Bell Cup final at Ottery on penalties, after the pair drew 1-1 following extra time.

The two sides could not score in regular time but Cronies went ahead in the 17th minute through Liam Carey, only for the Vikings to draw level seconds later from Cameron Vere.

So it reverted to penalties and the drama continued as Cronies keeper Jacob O'Callaghan then saved all three Sidmouth spot-kicks, while the Cronies converted their trio from Danny Pym, Carey and Jimmy-Lee Shaw.

Lifting the Morrison Bell Cup added to their Firewatch Devon Senior Cup, Division One championship trophy and the Grandisnon Cup. They only missed out on the East Devon Senior Cup when losing narrowly to Premier Division runners-up Newton.

Cronies are expected to be playing in the Premier next season and will be a great addition. They have a record in the League which is almost unprecedented. They joined the competition in 2013, winning all 26 of their Division Seven games.

Their four seasons in all have produced successive championships from a 96 fixture schedule. Cronies won 85 of those games, losing just twice.

The Devon & Exeter League have issued a reminder that new teams must submit their applications by (tomorrow) Wednesday.

Nine definite requests have been received, and there are a possible four more. But there is also the likelihood that three teams will be withdrawing.

The extra numbers could mean that the League will retain Division Nine, but that will be confirmed once numbers are known.

League secretary Chris Davey is only contactable on his mobile (07891 203 888) or clubs should then contact either the League chairman Roger Spray (07584 472 653 or 01392 425 884) or vice-chairman Roland Brown (01392 460 276).

Success for local swimmers

SEVEN Chard & District Swimmers qualified for the South West Regional Swimming Championships this season.

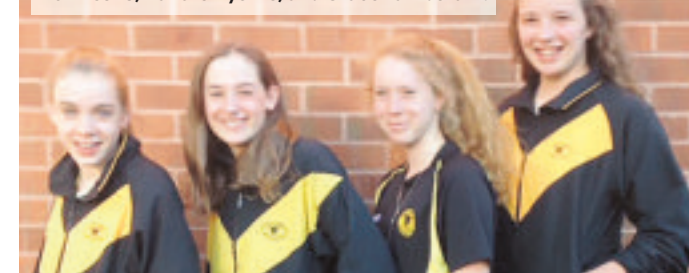

To take part in these Championships swimmers must achieve the required qualifying times and this enables them to compete against the top swimmers in the South West of England.

In the 15 years and over youth group, held at the 50m pool at Plymouth Life Centre Hannah Pullinger (21), qualified in four events, Henry Taswell (16) six events and Xanthe Dyer (15) two events: Hannah was unable to compete this year as she was busy with finals at University, Henry competed through Street Swimming Club where he has been doing top-up training, and Xanthe competed in the 50 and 100m breaststroke events, achieving seasonal best times in both.

A further four 11-14 year younger Age Group swimmers achieved the qualifying times to compete at their equivalent Regional Championships at Millfield and Bristol: Millie Downes, Briana Barrand, Grace Lambert, and Jimmy Brett.

Qualification and success in the ■ PERSONAL BESTS: Briana Barrand 13, Millie Downes 13, Xanthe Dyer 15, and Grace Lambert 12.

breaststroke events was strong, with the girls all achieving at least two qualifying times in these events.

Briana Barrand (13), competed in the 50,100 and 200m breaststroke, and made the final in 100m breaststroke finishing sixth, Millie Downes (13), competed in the 50, 100 and 200m breaststroke and made the final in the 50m breaststroke placing fifth. Grace Lambert (12), competed in the 50 and 100m breaststroke, and 100m freestyle events, making the final in the 100m freestyle, placing eight.

All girls achieved personal best times in their events, just edged out of finals in other events, and with some breaststroke times particularly noteworthy, this potentially puts them in the running for invitation to the Summer Nationals in Sheffield during August.

Mike Jeffery funeral

CHARD rugby Club are sad to announce that Mike Jeffery a former club captain died recently whilst in hospital.

Mike joined the club in the 1960s and played regularly in the back row and occasionally as a centre until he retired from playing in the early 1980s.

He captained the 1st XV in the 1974/75 season and was also a member of the outstanding side the club had in the late 1970s.

After he finished playing Mike became a vice president and when the club began to improve its facilities was one of the trustees.

The club's thoughts and prayers are with his wife Wendy and the rest of his family at this very difficult time.

A service is being held at The Minster in Ilminster on Thursday at 2:30pm.

FORTY six seniors recently travelled to Sherbourne to take part in the third round of the Challenge Cup.

Although the conditions were near perfect, the players found the course to be more difficult that they are used to, and despite some fine efforts, nobody managed a par score.

Two players stood out. Danny Dowell scored 35 points to take the honours, but was closely chased by Nick Clarke who was unlucky only to match that score by not scoring on the final hole. George Wallace also had a fine round, returning 34 points to finish third.
